

LinkedIn Job Search

- You can use LinkedIn platform to look for jobs in the jobs section.
- Do the search using keywords and city.

- Ask for a referral from someone who is working there and with whom you are already connected.

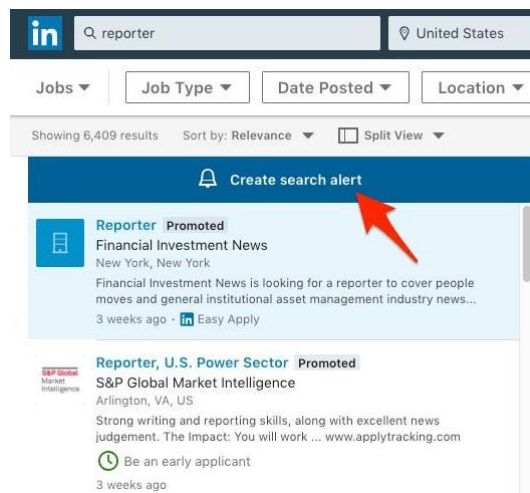

- Change your status to let the headhunter or the recruiter know that you are currently looking for a new position.

The screenshot shows the LinkedIn 'Career interests' settings page. At the top, there is a search bar and navigation icons for Home, My Network, Jobs, Messaging, Notifications, Me, Work, and Post a job. The main content area is titled 'Career interests' and includes a 'Privacy settings' link. A toggle switch for 'Let recruiters know you're open' is currently turned off. Below this, a dropdown menu for 'Where are you in your search?' is open, showing options: 'Actively applying' (selected), 'Casually looking', 'Not looking, but open to offers', and 'Not open to offers'. Other settings include a time range of '1 - 3 months', job titles like 'Reporter', locations like 'New York, New York', and job types like 'Full-time'.

- Create a search alert and get notified for all the jobs that match your criteria.

The screenshot shows LinkedIn search results for 'reporter' in the United States. The search bar contains 'reporter' and the location is set to 'United States'. Below the search bar are filters for 'Jobs', 'Job Type', 'Date Posted', and 'Location'. The results show 6,409 results, sorted by 'Relevance'. A blue banner at the top of the results area says 'Create search alert' with a bell icon. A red arrow points to this banner. Below the banner, the first job listing is for 'Reporter Promoted' at 'Financial Investment News' in 'New York, New York'. The second listing is for 'Reporter, U.S. Power Sector Promoted' at 'S&P Global Market Intelligence' in 'Arlington, VA, US'.
